

Dear Commission:

Please be advised If the CBA is successful in manipulating the "established business relationship" exemption they are not only breaching consumer privacy but also disabling competition outside of fair trade. They will then be able to motivate there product and associated partnership products as well.

If their product(service) is good why would they need the FCC to promote it. Maybe its not...

Thank you for your time regarding this matter.